Dear Wendi,
I'm glad I got to know
you a little better this year.
You put up with a lot of garbage from Cliff this year, so I'm sure a great kid and if I don't see you, have a great summer.
and best of luck in Florida!
Have Fun!

The Panther this year, headed by Terry Vance, was one of the best ever. It was more self-supporting than previous years and various changes made it more enjoyable to read. With Jeff Rosen as Managing editor and Mary King as business manager, The Panther was a bigger and better paper.

1973-74 was a year of transition in the music department. Mr. Stuart Soffer, the new music coordinator, assumed leadership of the band, replacing Mr. Greco, who moved to the Middle School. Mr. Preble continued to direct the orchestra. Both organizations suffered from a scarcity of experienced players as a strong influx of enthusiasts but technically deficient ninth graders redefined the musical standards of the department. Like a last place baseball team, the department is "building for the future." The exceptionally strong Middle School program reportedly boasts forty-six oboe players all eager to play in high school bands of tomorrow.

With Rose Avallone as producer, Mike Ullmann as News Editor, and Neil Novich as technician, Journal entered its second season. Terry Vance returned as anchorman, with charming Ruth Lapin and lovely Mary King as alternating anchorwomen. Skippy D'Aliso was this year's sportscaster and Phil Foglio joined Journal ranks as movie reviewer. Journal is an independent study project by Rose Avallone with Mr. Figlia as faculty advisor.

With the arrival of Ms. Young in September, the high school formed its first debate team.

After many interscholastic tournaments, the hard core of sophomores, Lenny Bell, Danny Kalish, Howard Leib, David Lempert, David Shindler and Donald Greenberg and junior Jeff Goldsmith learned the basic skills of debating and set a foundation for future Ardsley debate teams. After eight months of vigorous competition, they ended the season with a near even record.

The Bridge Club was under the supervision of Mrs. Poole. The students participating in the Westchester Inter-Collegiate Bridge League reached the finals. Those students on the team are Howard Baum and Frank Koh, co-chairmen of the club, and the B team is composed of Ricky Gallin and Kay Bonney.

The drama club, which is open to all grades, was headed this year by Eve Goldfarb and Ellen Silber. The faculty advisors have been Ms. Patricia Young, Ms. Barbara Lorie, and Ms. Rennie Richmond. Students directors produced a number of well-known scenes, Goodbye to the Clown, Chamber Music, Oh, G-d!, and Feiffer's People. Classes in acting, voice, mime, and theatre games were taught by the students. The club wishes to continue its success in future years and welcomes any interested students who would like to learn more about plays and their production.

The French Honor Society was again advised this year by Madame Gladys Ullmann. She helped President Joanna Mitsos, Vice-President Mary King, Secretary Sue Roffer and the other members of the society to plan several events. The traditional initiation, a trip to the Museum of Modern Art, a movie, the Broadway play, "Candide" and a fantastic French feast were among the year's activities.

The Latin Honor Society is comprised of a group of students dedicated to furthering awareness and appreciation of Roman culture and the Latin language. This year their activities included a Roman banquet and a foreign language week campaign to increase Latin enrollment.

The criterion this year, after a struggle to get started, has been an overwhelming success. The entire school was involved in the construction of this literary magazine with vast contributions of writing, photography and art. The staff was a large one, with a board of seven, the chairman of which was Nora Madonick. The Criterion came out earlier this year and was a good representation of the school's talents.

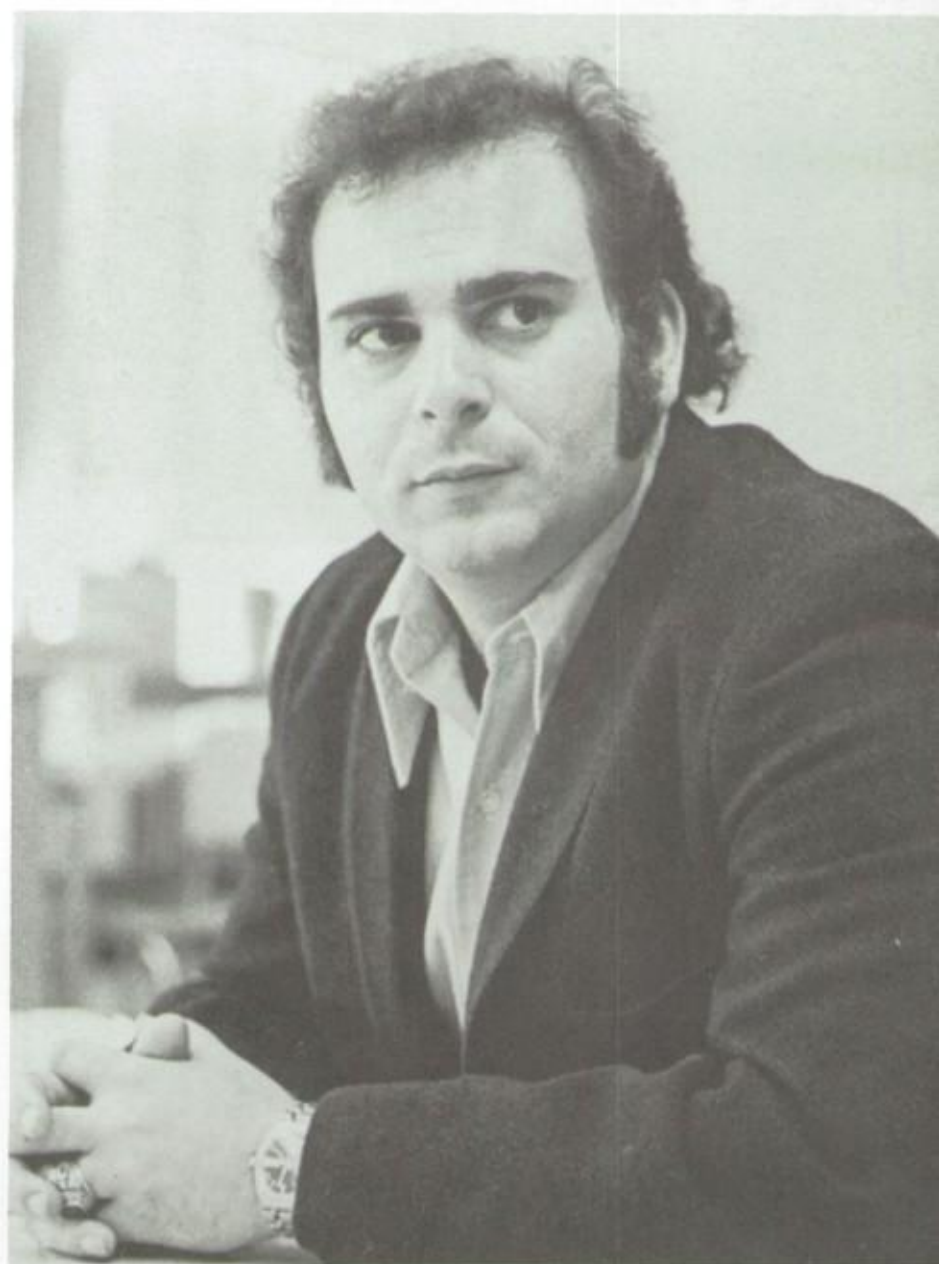

The new bookstore, The Happy Booker, was extremely successful this year. Under the leadership of Craig Boelsen and advisor, Mrs. Virginia Poole, the bookstore outdid itself. The store sells books, candy, school supplies, etc. It had a staff of about ten people and will be run by the senior class every year with all profit going to the senior class treasury.

The Student-Teacher Administrator Council (S.T.A.E.C.) had its third year under the leadership of senior Rose Avallone and Mr. Henry Tina. S.T.A.E.C. operates through a Forum made up of several sub-committees, including mini-courses.

The Technicians Club, headed by Neil Novich and Rose Avallone, had another great year. The club consists of eight people, without whose help there would be great difficulty in presenting the Senior Play, the Talent Show, all dances and any dramatic productions.

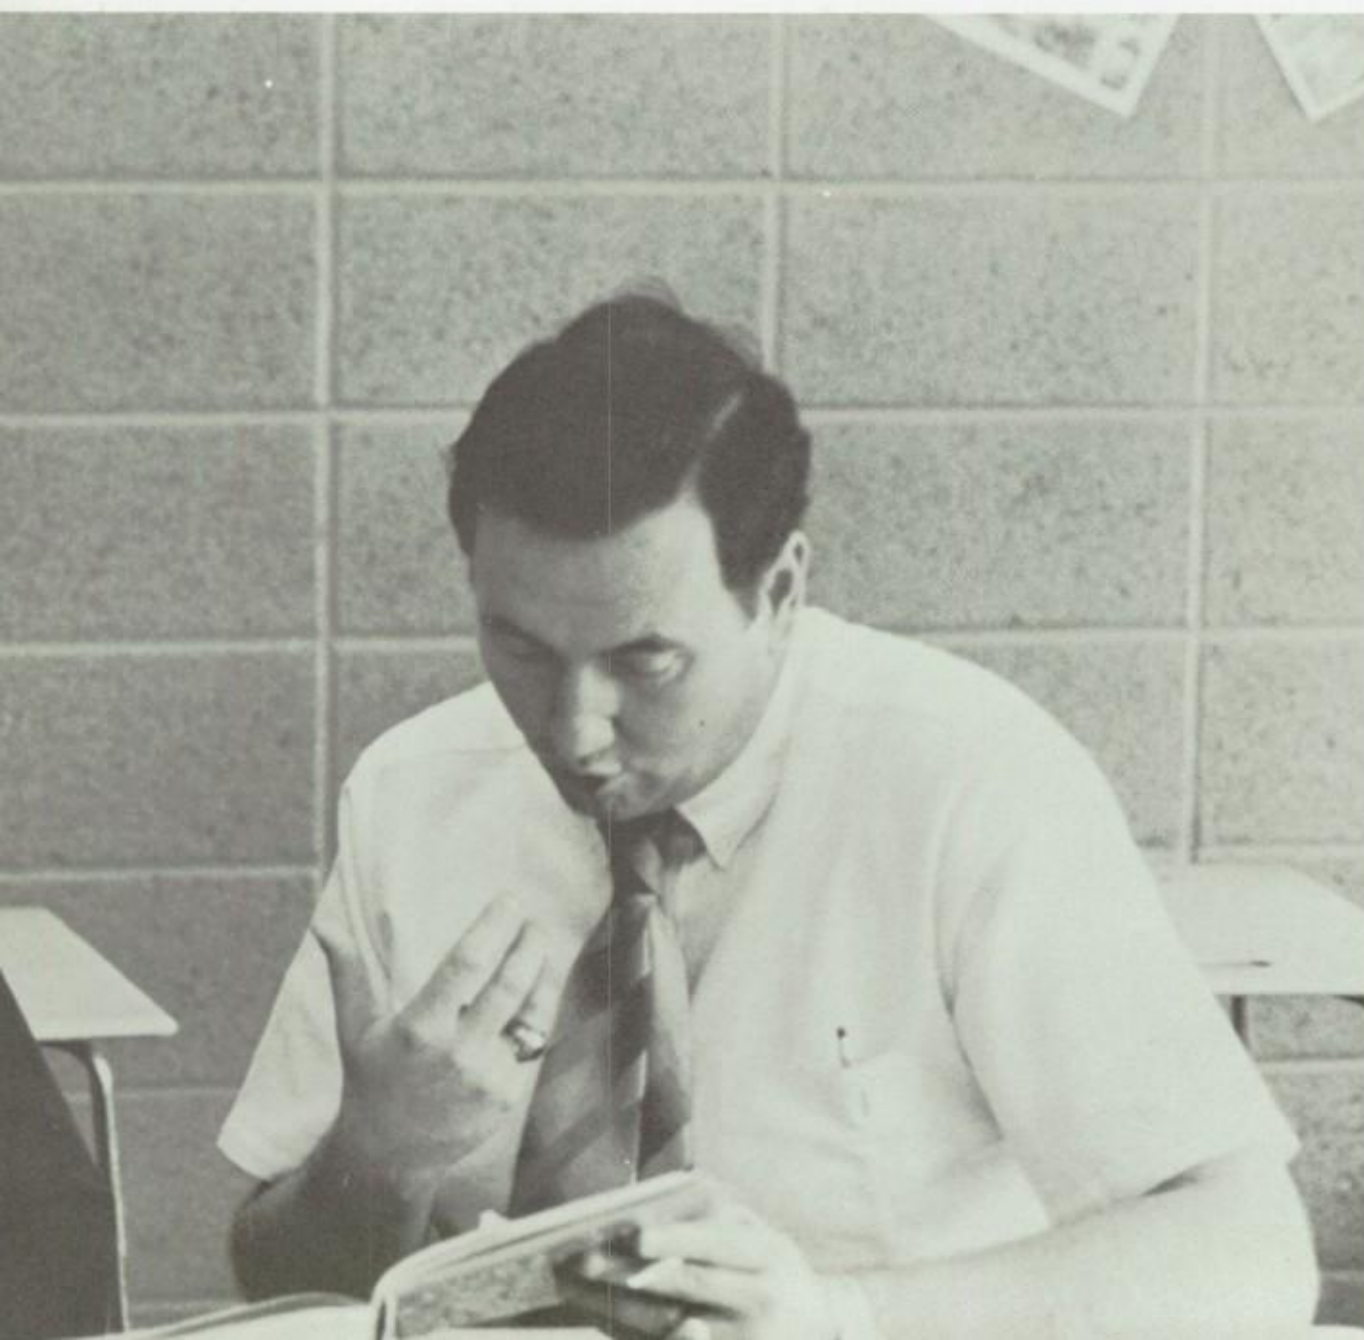

The History Journal was under the leadership of Mr. Lawrence Mayer. There are seven members on the Board of Editors with the job of deciding which papers will be in the Journal. The papers are left anonymous, each member then reads them and votes. Seniors Jane McAuley, Terry Vance and Robyn Weinstein and juniors Linda DeCecca, Jeanne Murphy, Harry Merkin and Greg Tung make up the Board.

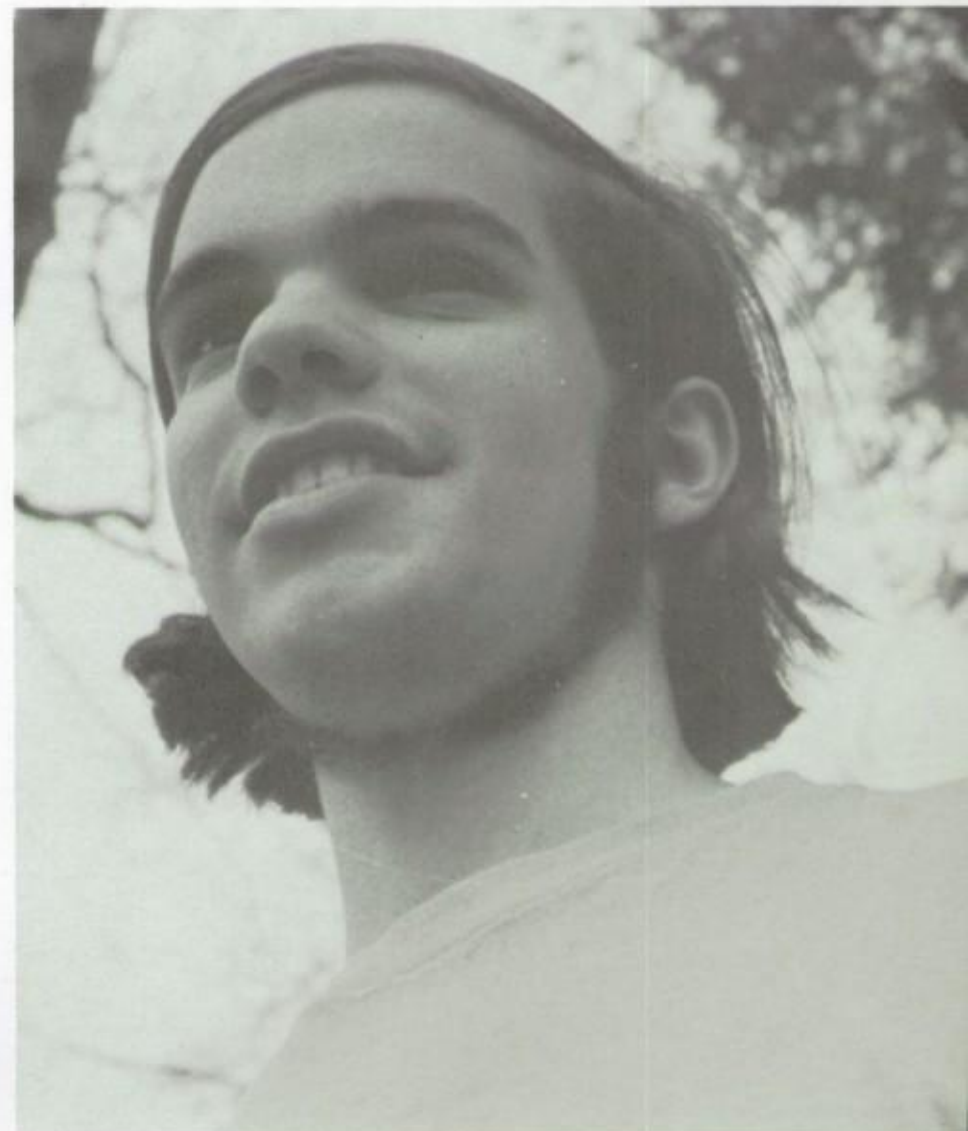

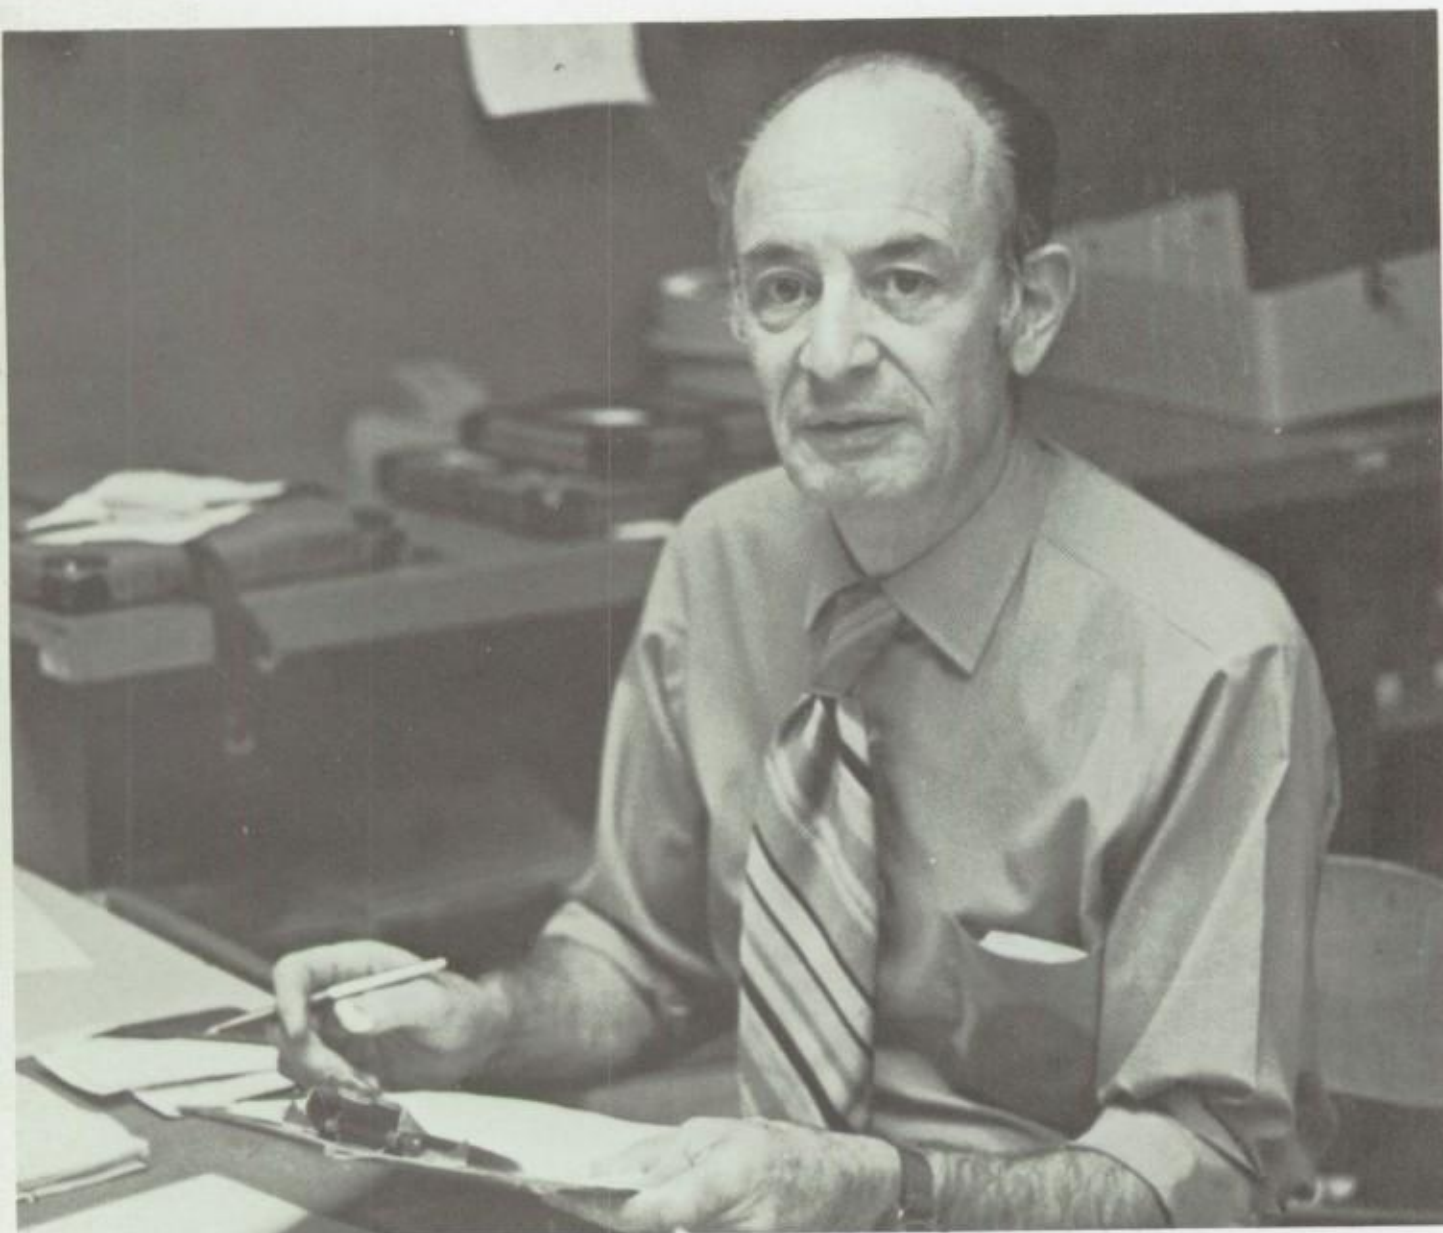

The mini-course committee, under the leadership of student chairman Bob Forman and faculty advisor John O'Neill, offered 27 courses to the student body. Several new courses were offered as well as those brought back by popular demand. Among the most popular courses were Bread Baking, Pottery, and Flying.

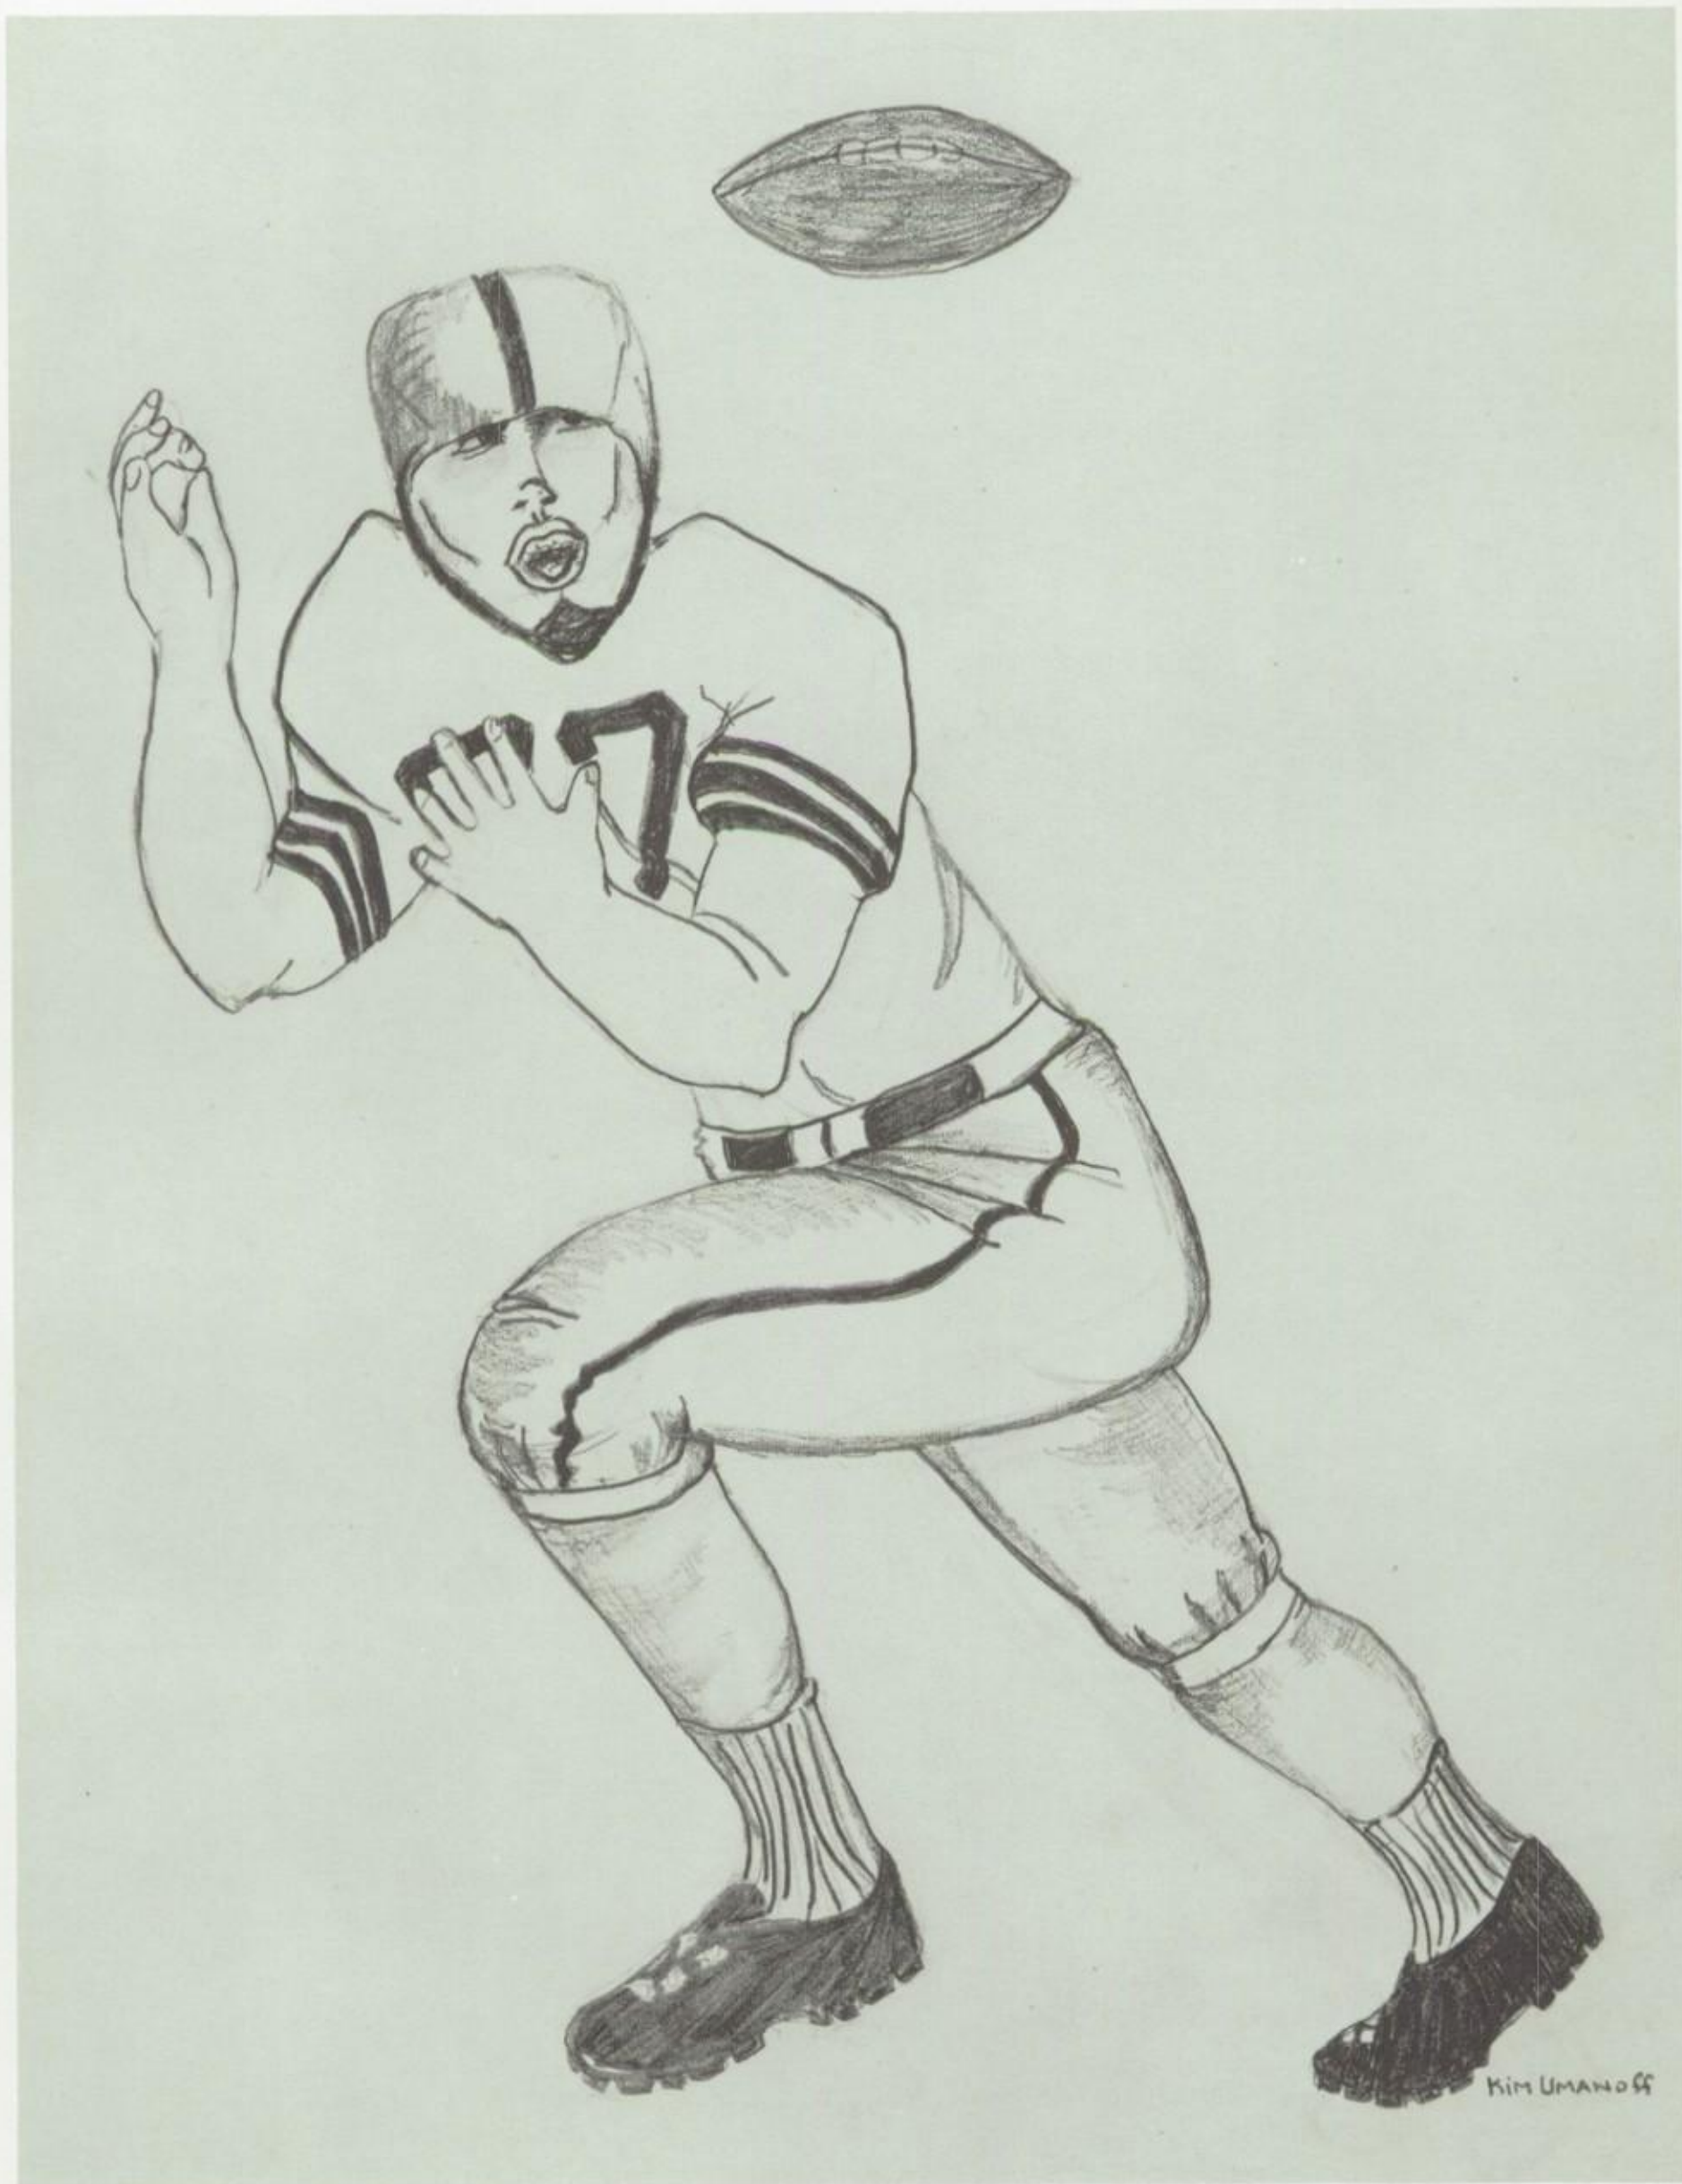

The '74 Ardsleyan wishes to express our thanks to Mr. Ciofalo who was always there when we needed him. His expertise in the area of photography was incalculable to us and without him this book would have been impossible.

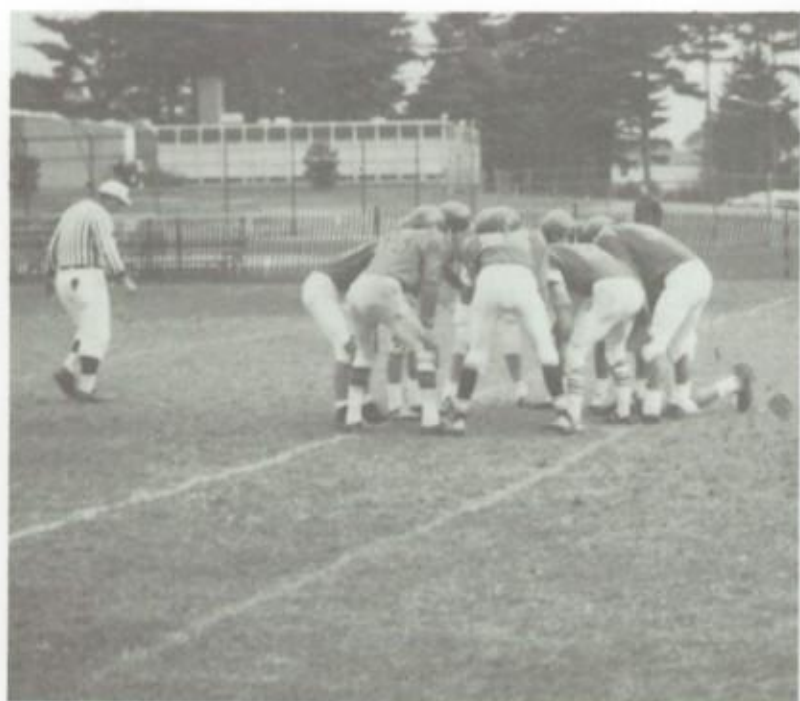

SPORTS

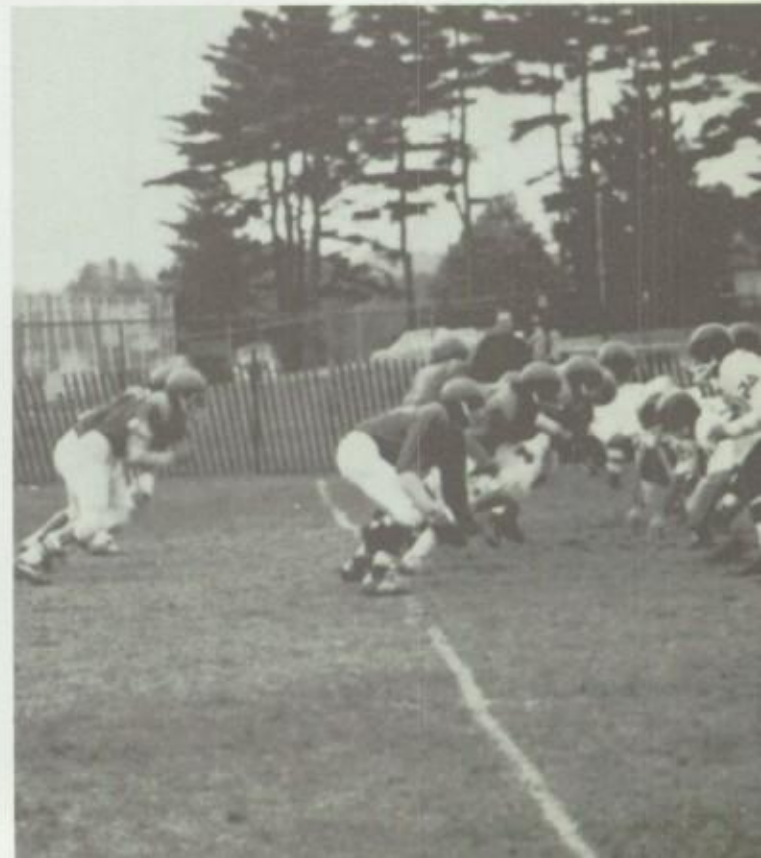

FALL SPORTS

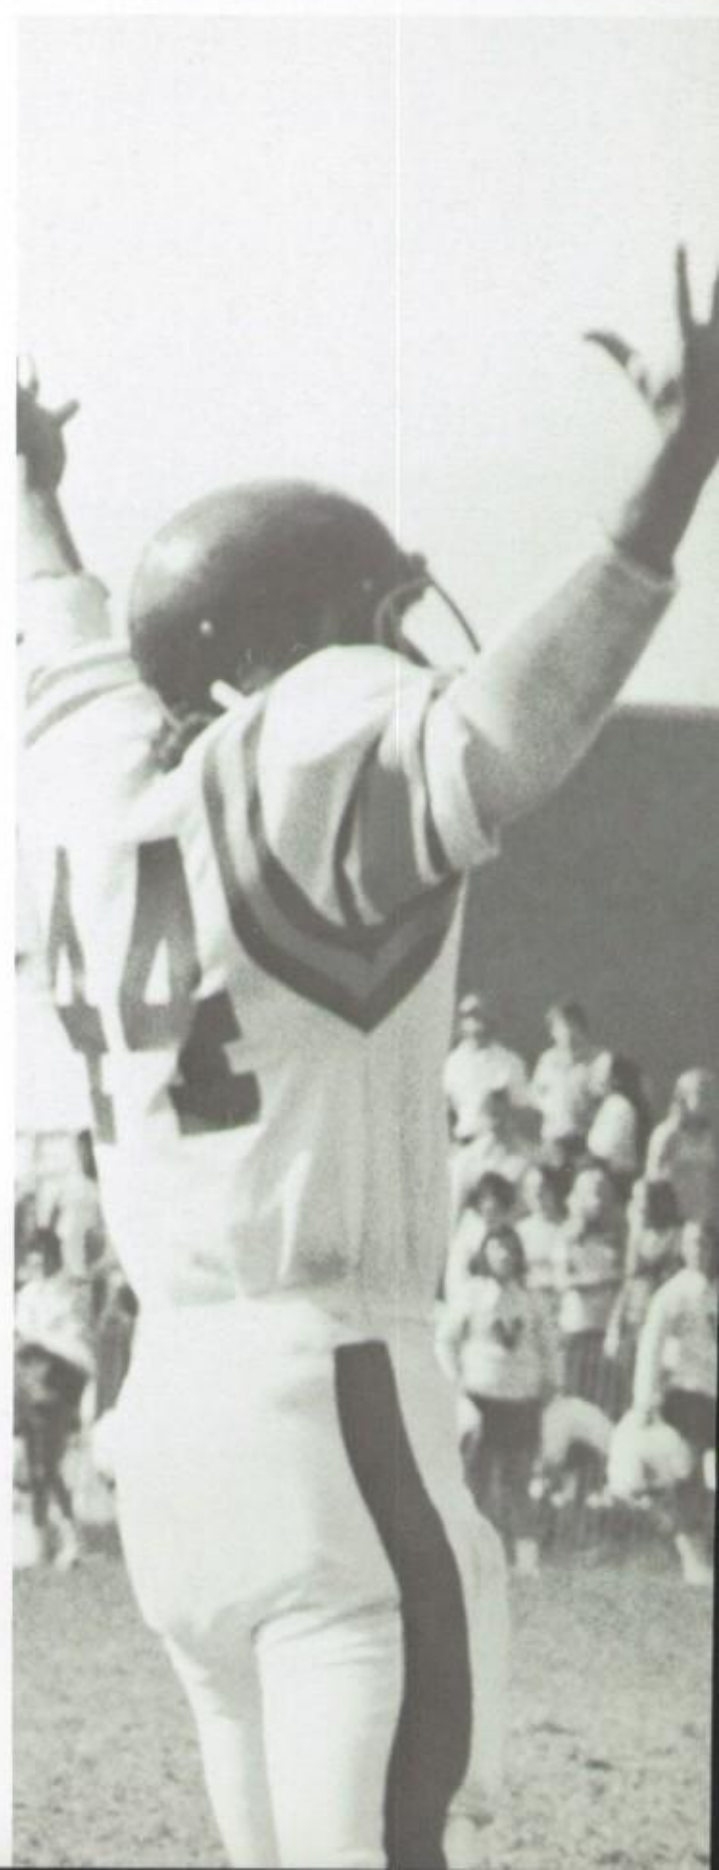

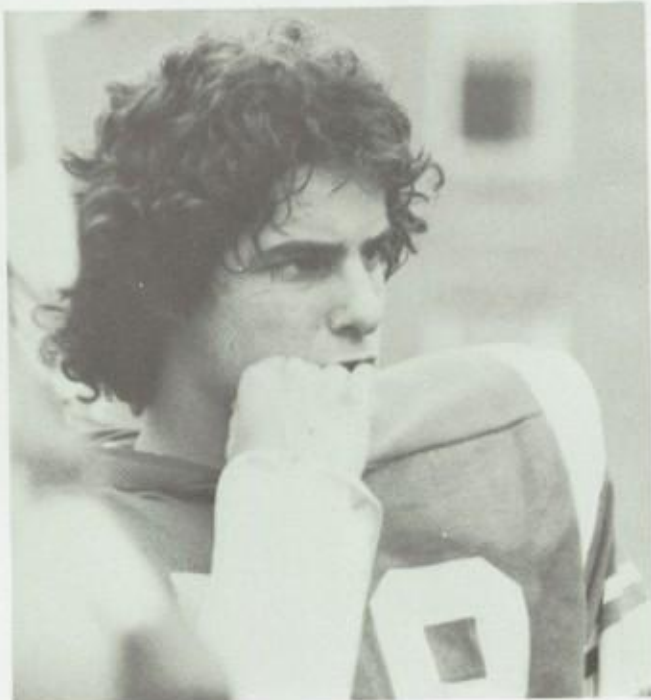

The Junior Varsity football team, despite a winless record and an inconsistent offense did show a strong defense and made almost every game close. Co-captain Paul Seiler provided the Jayvee's primary offensive punch at halfback and looking to be one of next year's varsity's best prospects. The defense, led by co-captain Matt Bible, Charlie Bruschi, Tommy Kelly, Jerry Ronan, Mark DiSalvo and Seiler was strong, quick, and hard-hitting and consistently allowed very few points. The team was hindered by both a lack of recruits and injuries. Coach Richard Hyra estimated that, after injuries, the team was made up of only 15 players. Taking this into account, the season wasn't as disastrous as the record might indicate, and next year's varsity team should definitely win a few games.

The varsity football team, under sophomore head coach Jud Hulbert, had a disappointing year. Their 1-7 final record was not indicative of the desire to win the team had. Star performers were all-league co-captain Tom Wheeler, co-captain Mark Zweibon, junior halfback Brad Phillips, junior center Jeff Nanna, senior Jerry Byrne, and all-league junior Skip D'Aliso.

The varsity cheerleaders had a good year for the football and basketball seasons with 13 girls cheering. Jill Franken was the captain with Miss Janet Steinhauer as the advisor.

The junior varsity cheerleaders with Ann Margaret Zakzrewski and Erica Reiser as co-captains supported their Jayvee teams admirably throughout football and basketball seasons. There were 12 girls cheering on the squad, and Miss Steinhauer was the advisor.

Although the Homecoming Day was slightly marred by the football team's loss to Eastchester, it couldn't take away from the beauty of the Homecoming Queen, Carole Mobilia, and her attendants, Pat Stucklen and Lori Ross. The day started with a parade through the village and surrounding area with the Homecoming beauties being ostentatiously exposed on top of their chauffeured vehicle. The game was then played, which was followed by a reception. Later on that evening, a dance was given. The event was sponsored by the Ardsley Panther Association.

The twirlers, with the renowned Pat Palmerone as majorette, provided an added excitement to half-time shows. Pat Stucklen and Jane McAuley were co-captains under the leadership of Miss Sally Doubleday.

In it's second year of competition, the varsity soccer team, under the leadership of Coach Neil Fitzpatrick, fought a good, hard season. The team's co-captains this year were Matt Grayson, Andy Sherman and Mark Yurkofsky.

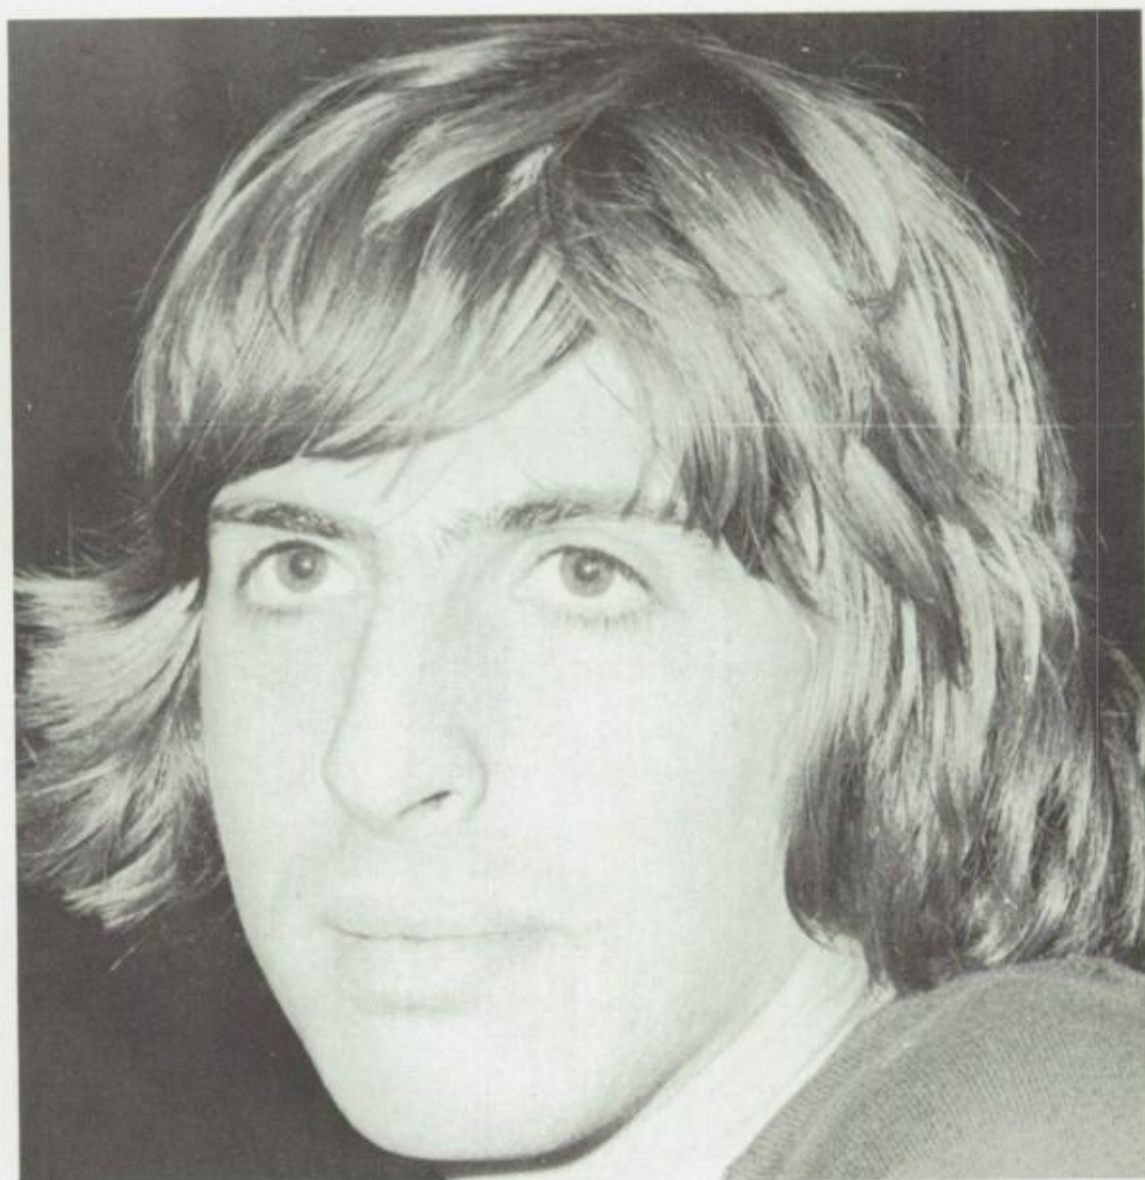

Under the leadership of Coach Al Bianco, the Ardsley J.V. soccer team received another outstanding record this season that was well deserved by the eagerness and devotion of this hard working team.

Ardsey's spring track squad is the largest ever, over sixty. The team anticipates another C.W.L.championship with strong men and women in every event. Team captains Jerry Byrne, John Kennedy and Peter Mendelsohn hope to lead the team through a successful season.

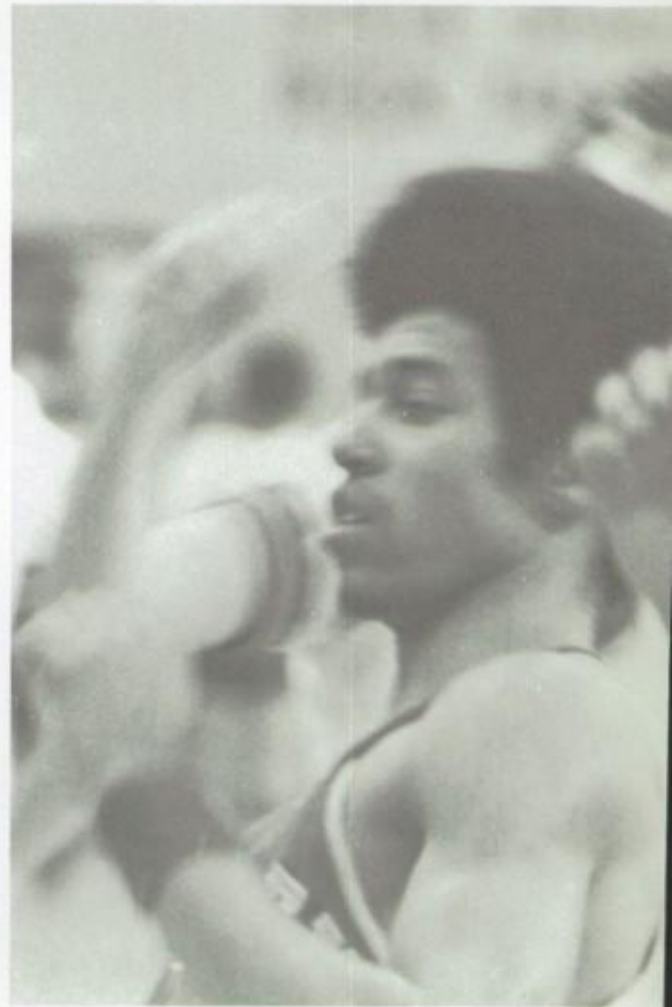

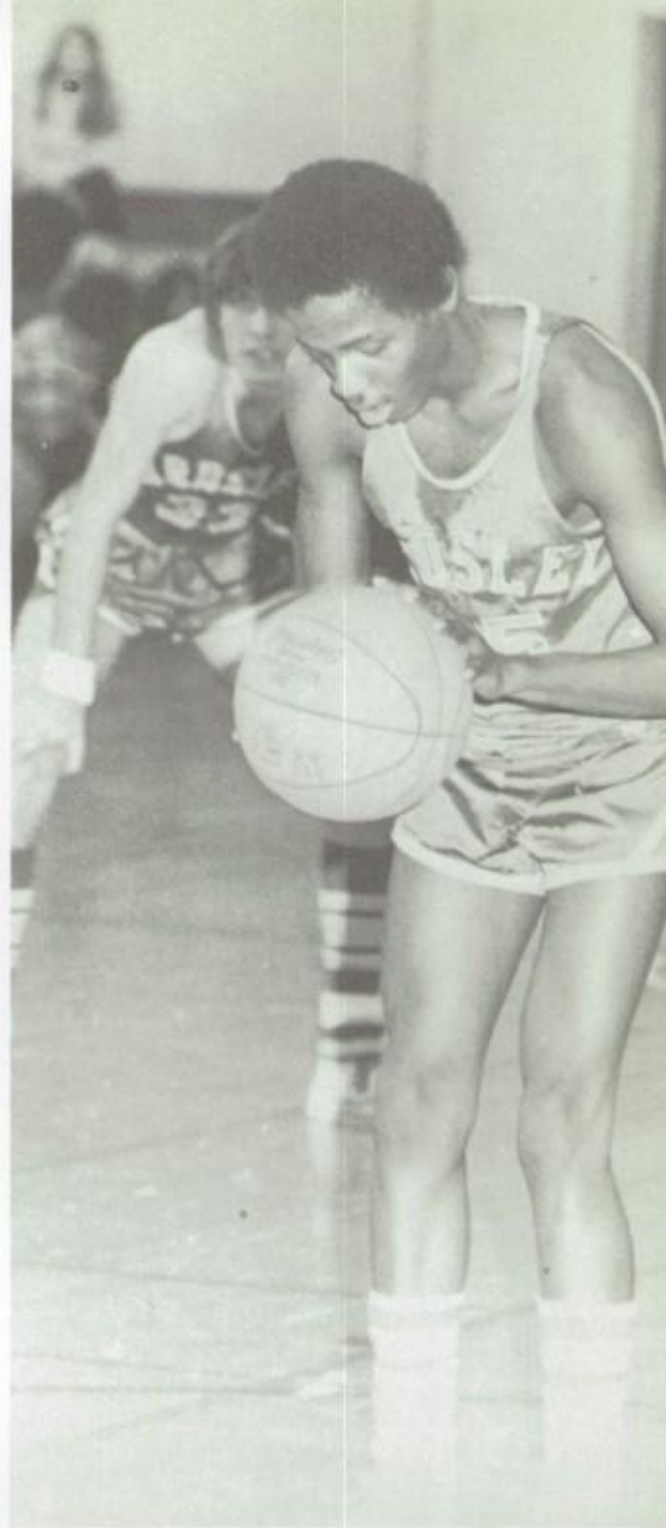

The girls' swim team swam alone and as one this year. Coached by Mrs. Karen McGeory, the team ended its season 4-4. Top swimmers on the team included Beth Hamilton and Phyllis Moretti. Top divers were Sue Lancellotti and Nanine Scaperotta.

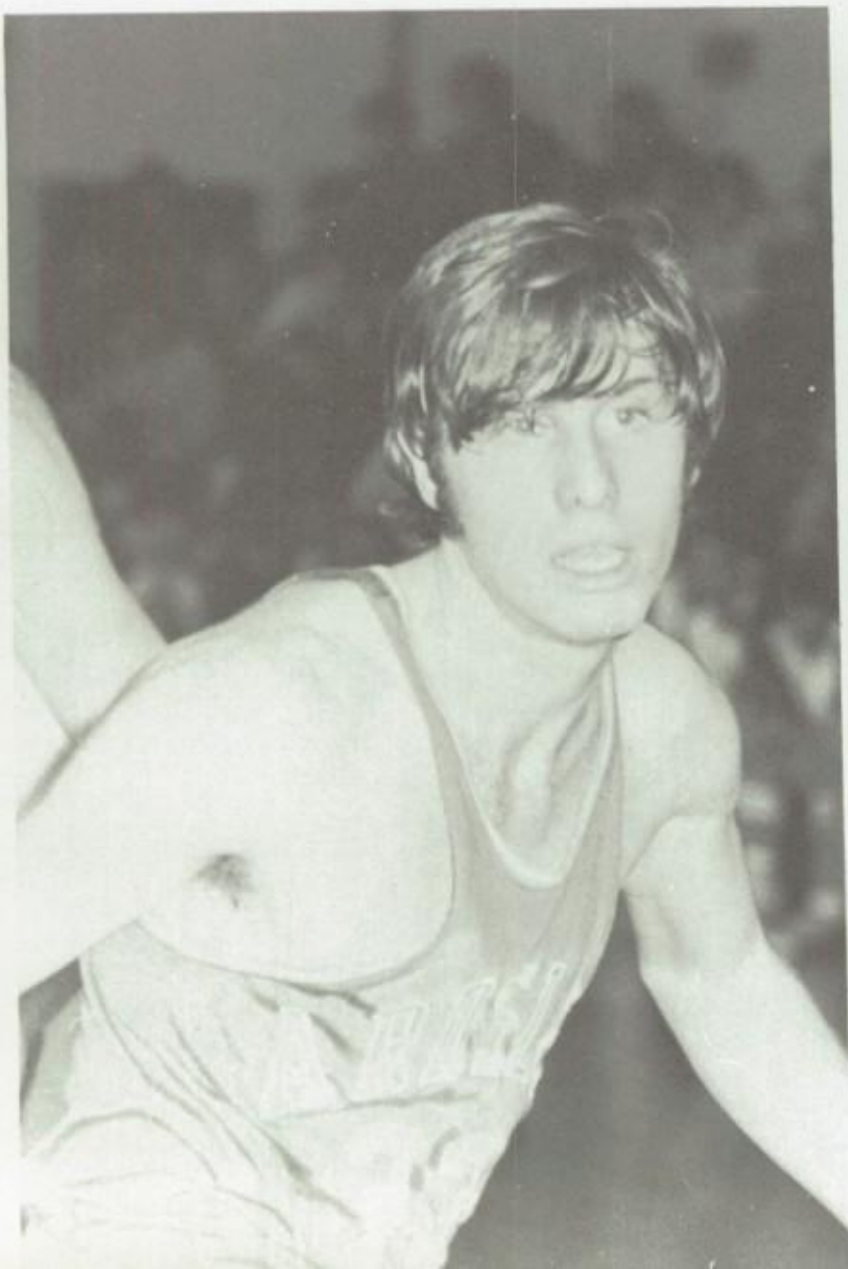

WINTER SPORTS

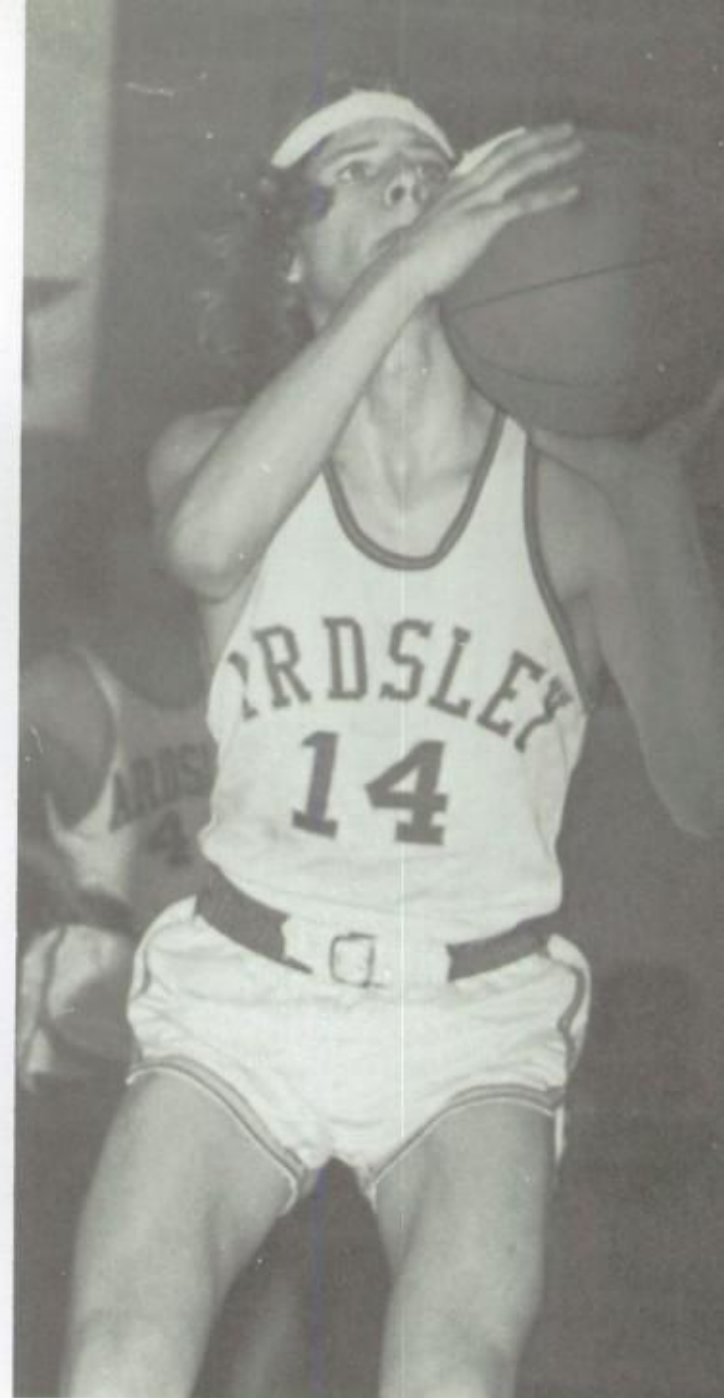

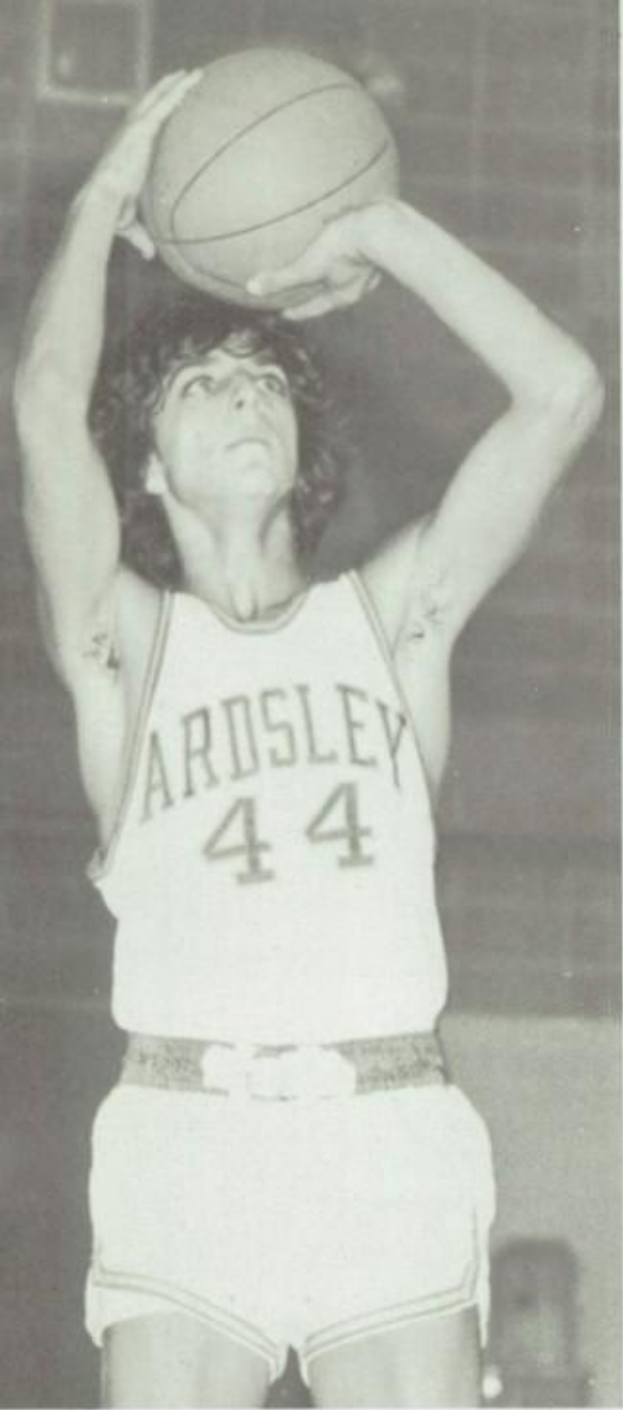

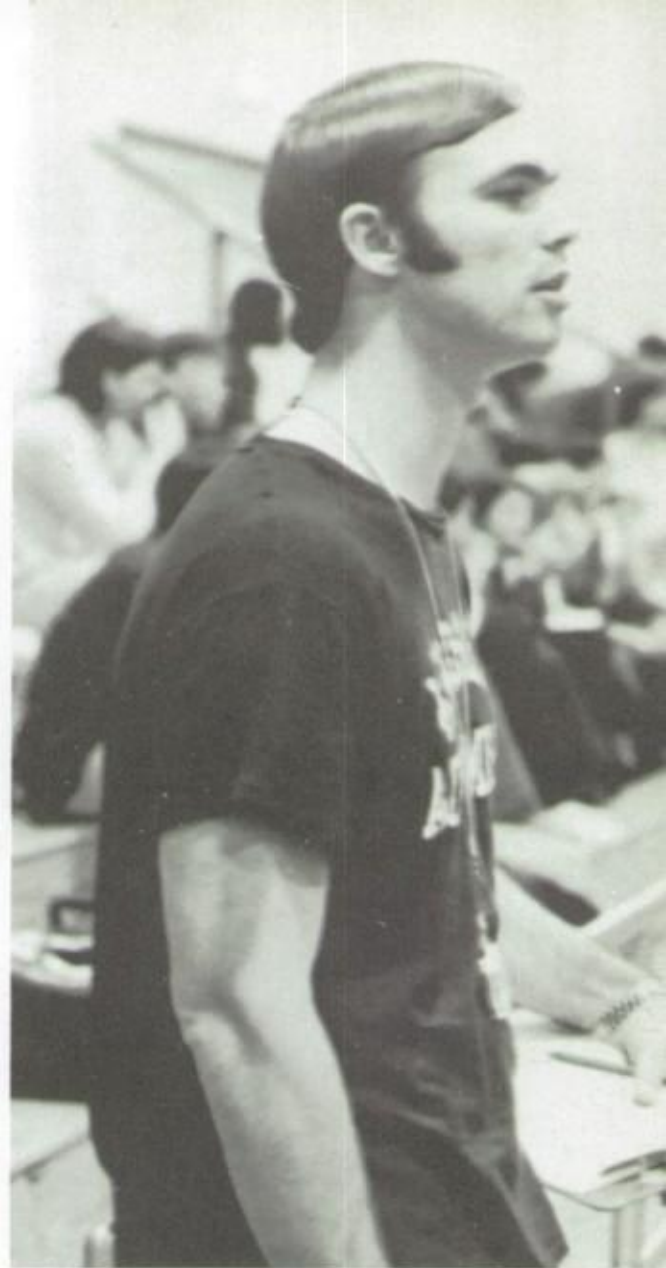

The varsity basketball team, under the auspices of Coach Hank Miller, had a respectable league showing of 7-7. Star junior Ken Ford, Ardsley's only all-leaguer, led the backcourt, while MVP Steve Murphy led the team up front with over 200 rebounds, amassing almost 500 rebounds in two years here. Other brilliant performers were sophomore Jeff Smith, most improved player Vin Boccumini, Tom Caporale, Dean Spahn, Josue Matos, and sophomore Ralph Maggio.

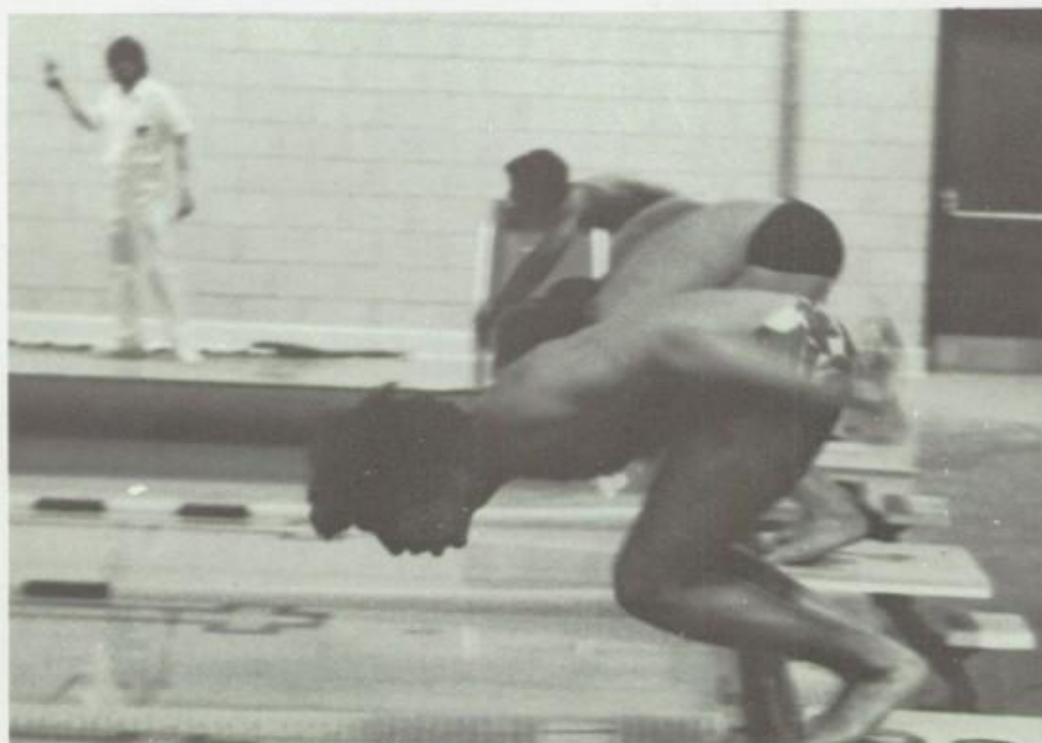

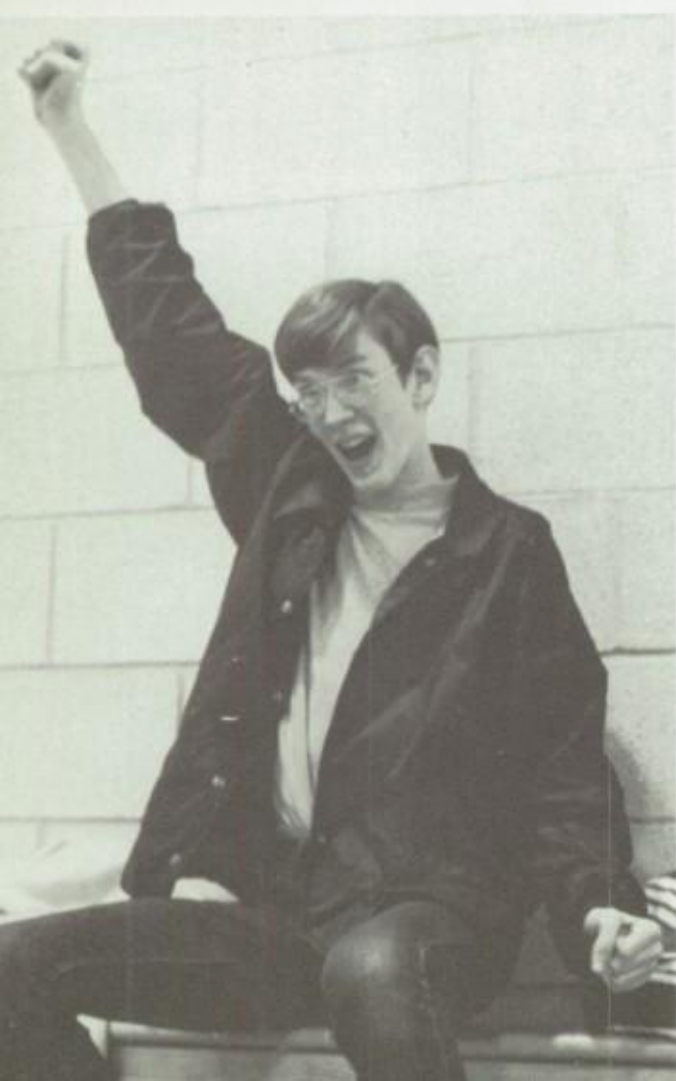

Despite an abundance of talent, the JV basketball team was hard pressed for victories, winning only five games. One of the main causes of the team's lack of success was its lack of experience. "Most of the team," said Coach Mike Kehoe, "didn't play much freshman ball." Another contributing factor was the loss of two supremely talented sophomores, Jeff Smith and Ralph Maggio, to the varsity team. The players were very inconsistent: effective one day, ineffective the next. Coach Kehoe said during the season, "We're not getting the maximum from our players." And indeed, he must have had a valid point, for the Jayvees were blessed with such outstanding players as high scorers Rich Abromowitz, Steve Portnoy, Shep Doniger, Mark Golden, Mitch Rosen and Larry Wheeler.

In it's second year of competition, the Ardsley Swim Team, coached by Judson Hulbert, performed well, despite the lack of depth, with outstanding performances by Ted Quinlan, Mitch Dynan and the Beckett brothers.

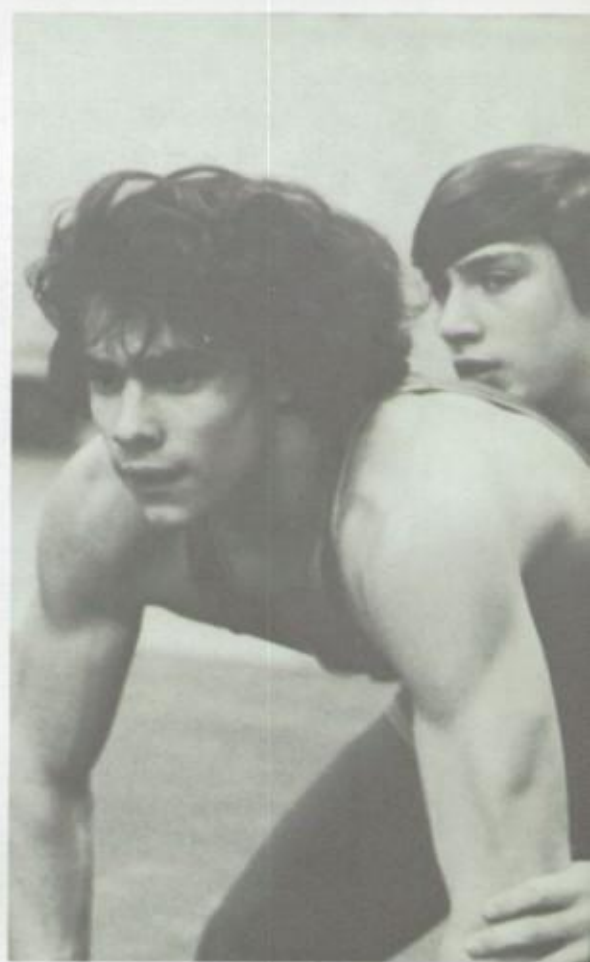

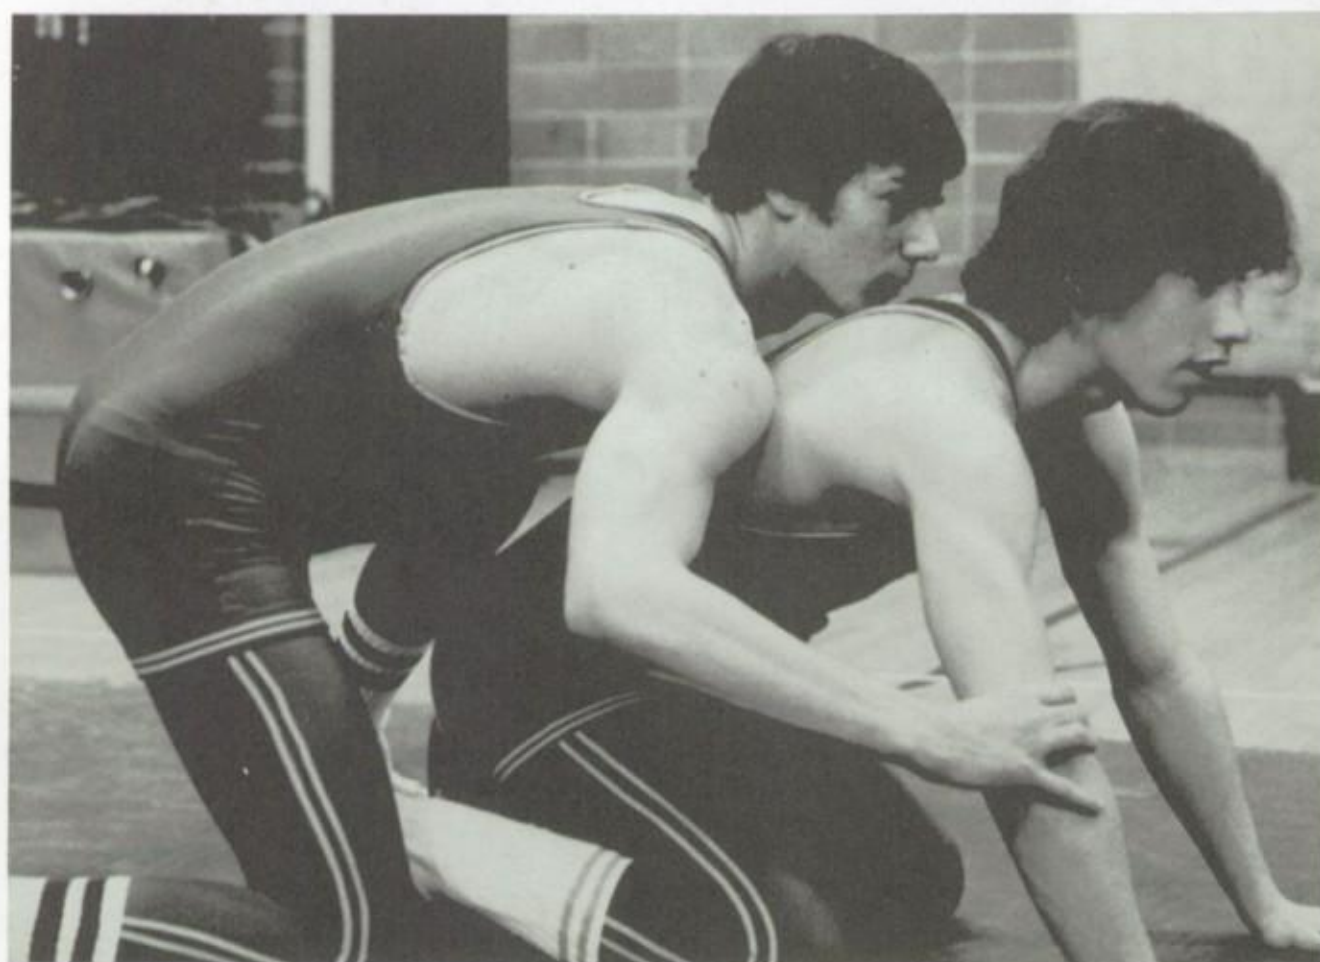

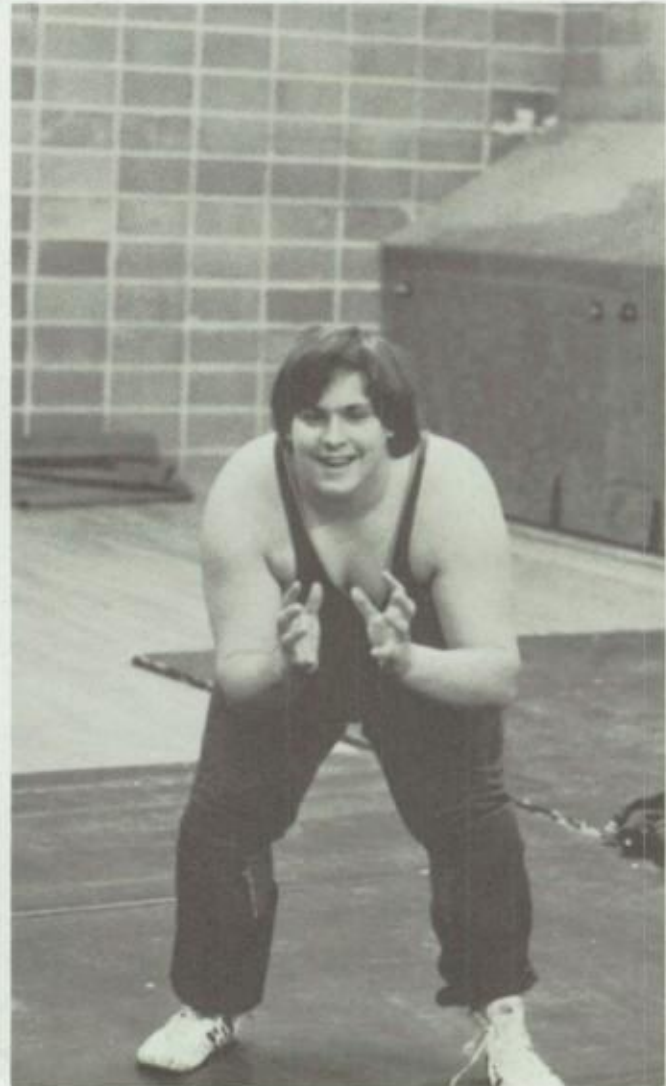

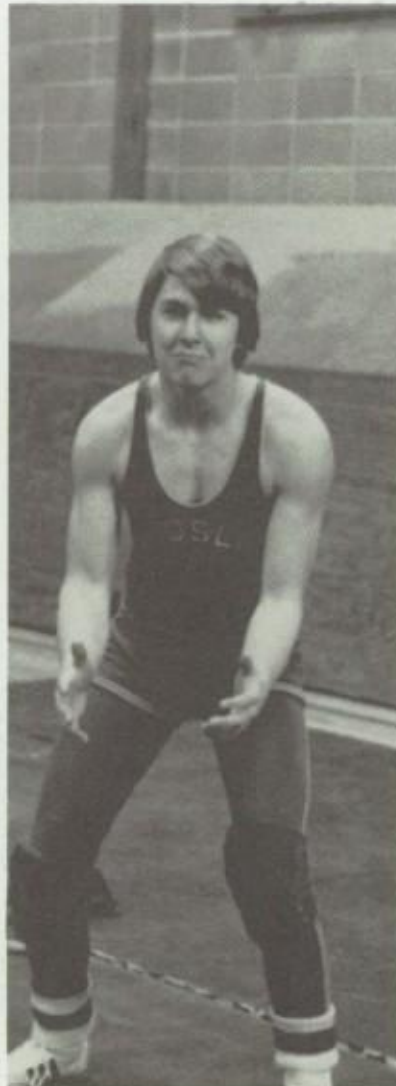

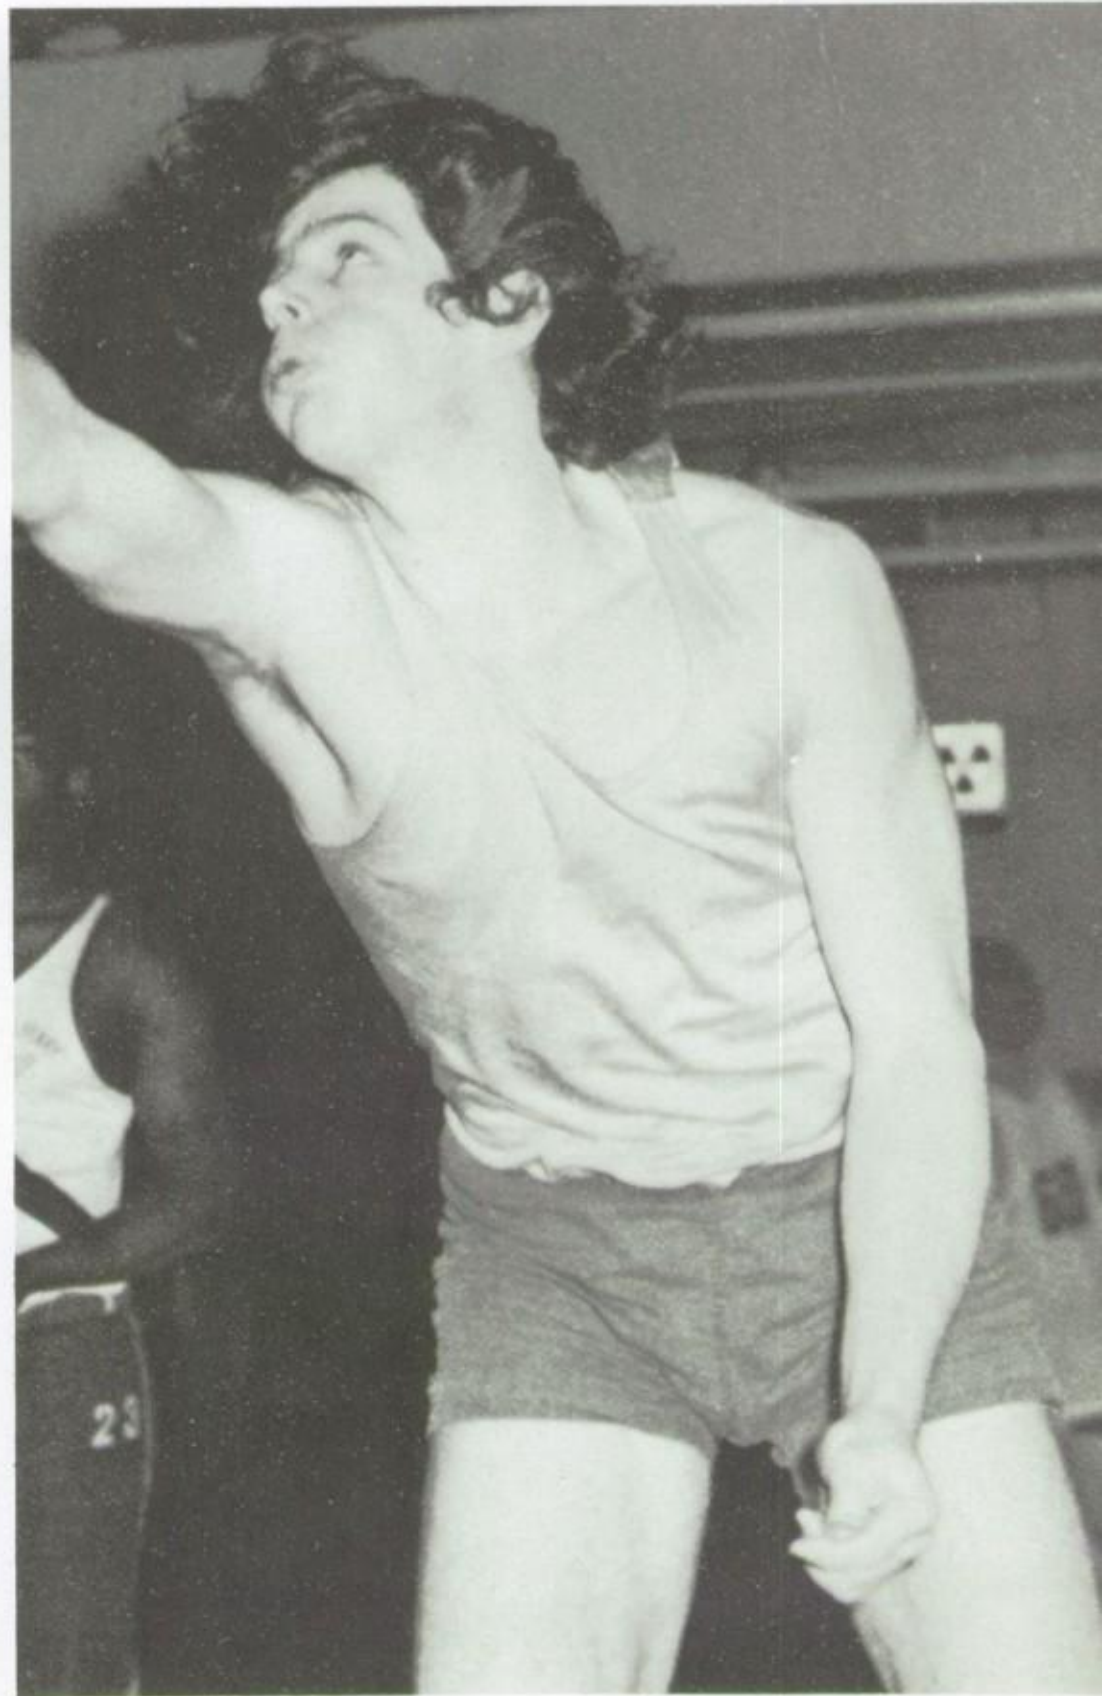

The girls' gymnastics had an excellent season for their first year, winning more meets out of the seven than they lost. Mrs. Doran was their coach with Liz Ayala as team captain. The four events each had an assistant captain; Liz was in charge of the bars, Barbara Gordon for the balance beam, Debbie Muskar for the floor, and Doreen Hinspeter for the horse. There were about 15 girls on the team, and they are to be congratulated for their achievements.

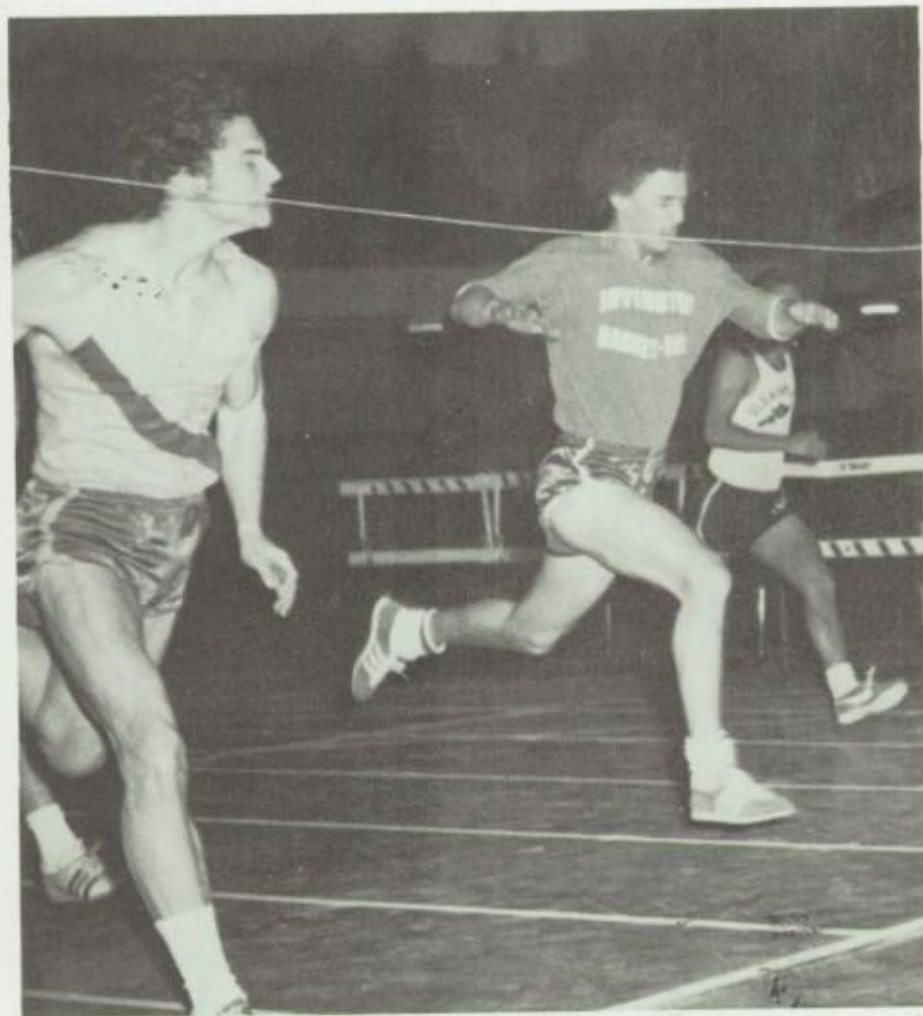

The wrestling team finished with a very disappointing record, which we won't mention. The team missed the iron hand rule of last year's Coach "Vags" (Mr. Caravaglio). Under new head coach Gary Tandlich the team produced many future hopefuls. Among them are all-league, most-improved wrestler Don Gardner who will be back next year, Jeff Culty, the team's most valuable wrestler, and sophomore Paul Seiler. Co-captain Rich Fried also had a productive season.

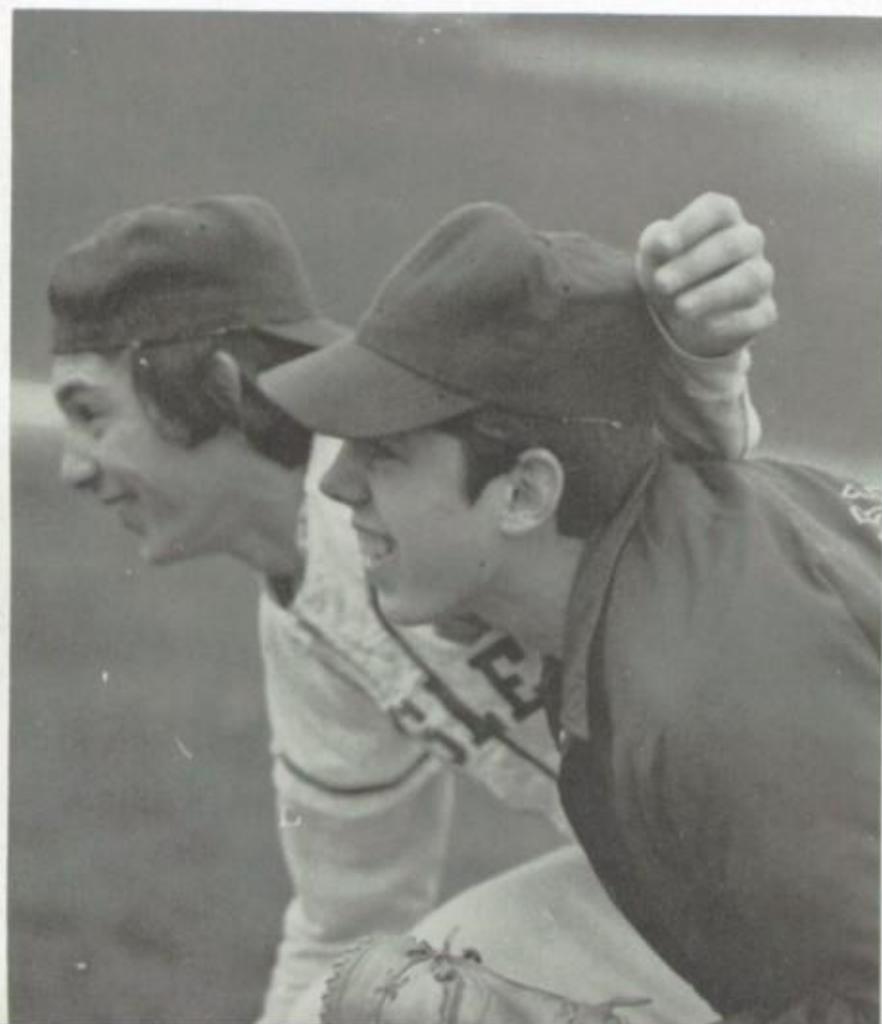

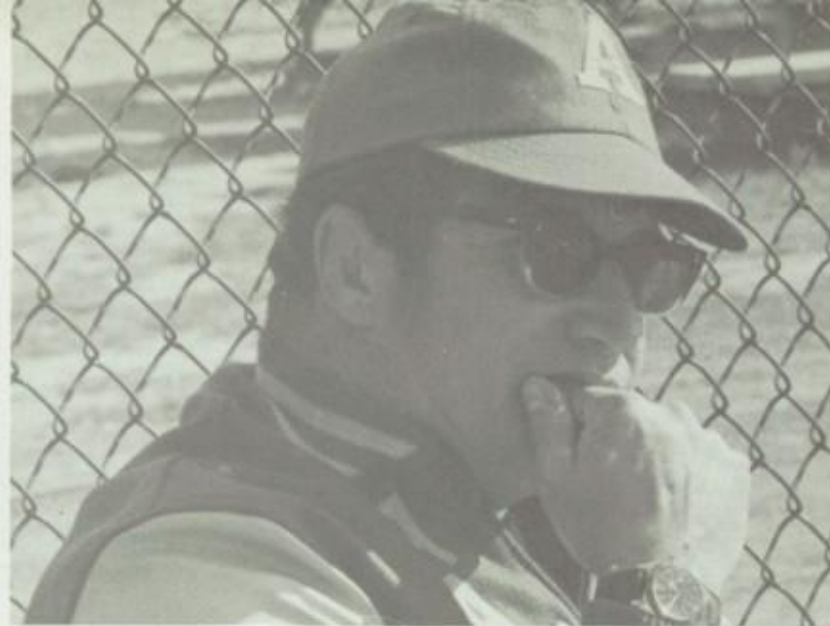

Once again Ardsley's indoor track team braved the elements and came up winners. The team, led by captains John Kennedy and state pole vault champion Jerry Byrne, won yet another C.W.L. championship. The team was well-balanced and came through with many record-breaking performances.

SPRING SPORTS

The baseball team, under the guiding influence of coach Bill Graney, had a good year. Returning all-county catcher Skip D'Aliso, three year starting co-captain Lee Woodworth, and co-captain Keith Platenyk are fine ballplayers. Pat Fioretti, Gary Viero, and Jim Bova also have great sticks and good defensive ability. The pitching was lead by Rich Fried, Tom Sacco, and Bernie Milano.

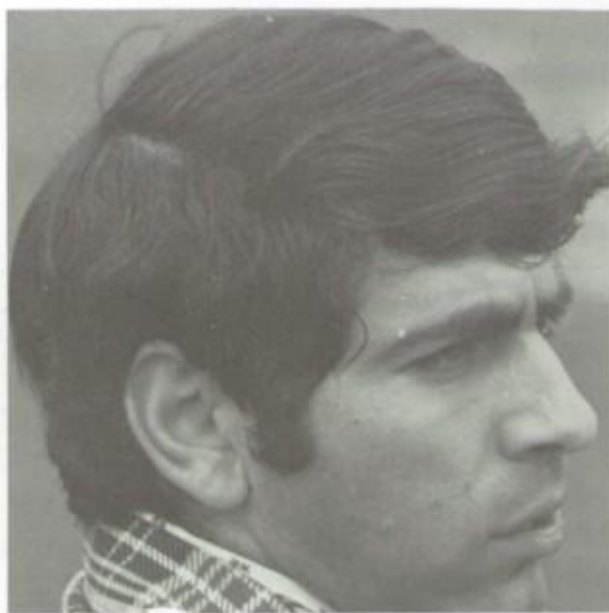

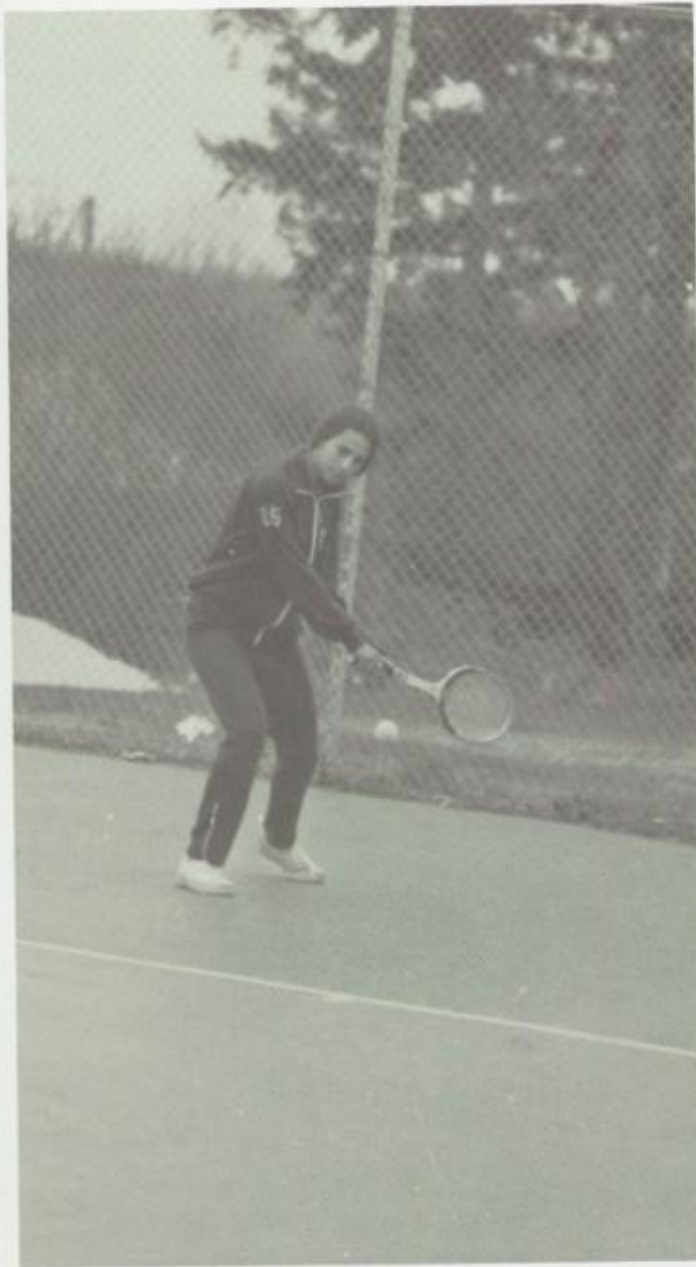

Ardsley's spring track squad is the largest ever, over sixty. The team anticipates another C.W.L. championship with strong men and women in every event. Team captains Jerry Byrne, John Kennedy and Peter Mandelsohn hope to lead the team through a successful season.

This year's tennis team is the strongest and most successful ever. The team was paced by senior Nick DeTarnowsky, Mark Brofsky and Mitch Dynan at singles with Dave Brofsky, Ross Kaplan, Bruce Cohen and Stu Dolgin playing doubles. Other members of the team include Eric Sherman, Danny Kalish and Barry Dorman. As a result of the sonic serves, the ferocious forehands and the blasting backhands the team was packed with power, agility and finesse. The team was coached by Mr. Albert Bianco.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Elizabeth Doran, this year's girls tennis team was very impressive. The team was lead by hard-hitting seniors Sue Roffer, Stacey Reed and sophomore Sherri Ross at singles. The doubles teams were lead by seniors Ivy Tomasoff and Sharon Mason, junior Karen Greco and sophomore Lisa Klion and the freshman-sophomore team of Laurie Goldman and Ellen Schwartz.

The leaders club, with captain Sue Roffer, is in cooperation with the Girls Athletic Association (G.A.A.). The leaders club is made up of eighteen girls that referee all the games. The G.A.A. invitational Leaders Club sponsors all girls organized after school sports such as hockey, volleyball, badminton, softball and basketball. Each sport is divided into teams with captains. The Blue-Gold teams are made up of the best players on each team, which the captain picks. The advisors are Janet Steinhauer and Elizabeth Doran.
